This illustration simply takes what is already known as accepted in Science, the Tropopause System, (please see Exhibit A – 23 – C) and it applies the very same principle of science to the “Inverted Universal Globe Spin Theory” in order to understand how the “Inverted Universal Globe Spin Theory” physically works. This applied principle of science explains, clarifies, illustrates, and demonstrates how Gravity is both created and maintained.

An “Inward Directed Pulling Center of Gravity” towards the Center Core of a Planet is created by simply getting an object inside a larger finite global object to rotate in the opposite direction of the finite larger global object, thus the inversion. It is maintained then by simply continuing the rotation in the opposite direction, which in turn is maintaining the inversion.

By way of illustration we then take this accepted principle of science, the Tropopause System, (Rotating Inverted Systems that are Creating a Downward Pulling Force) and apply it to a smaller object that is now rotating inside a larger object whereby the larger object is rotating in the opposite direction, (the Inversion). We find that the inverse spin of the smaller object against the spin of the larger object creates a gravitational pull towards the core/center of the earth, an inward center of gravity.

This next illustration begins to connect the dots. Gravity at this point in this work is believed to create and maintain “Magnetic Fields, and “Global Warming”.

Under Gravity:

1. The “Coriolis Effect” is part of the evidence that supports the “Inverted Universal Global Spin Theory”.
2. “Vortex Formations” are part of the evidence that supports the “Inverted Universal Globe Spin Theory”.
3. Understanding how Gravity actually does works will also lead to the logical conclusion that our Universe is Finite, and it is not endless.
4. Gravity is in active motion and it is created and maintained through an inverted rotation system.
5. The new formula for Gravity = Mass x Velocity, or Surface Space x Weight x Speed.
6. Momentum also = Mass x Velocity.
7. The “Global Spin Model” is a good way to explain the how Gravity Works.
8. The Direction Water takes as it Rotation in Drains eliminates the “Wind” as a cause for the “Coriolis Effect”.

Under Magnetic Fields:

1. Provides the Earth a truth North.
2. Keeps the Earth from being drawn into the Sun and hitting other planets, or they hitting the Planet Earth.

Global Warming:

1. Our Earth’s Core is coming under ever increasing pressure as we continue to rotate, with no relief valve, and no way to reverse the aging process.
2. Gravity is aging.
3. Our Planet is getting hotter at its Core. Pressure is increasing and this is causing the boiling level to rise.
4. Our Sun is getting hotter too. Pressure is increasing and this is causing the boiling level to rise. The sun experiences “direct gravity” and it is also at the very center of the “in-direct gravity” that is taking place in our Solar System.
5. The primary cause of our Earths Global Warming is that our Earth’s Center Core is getting warmer. The secondary cause would be that the Sun is also warming up at the same time, and then the final cause would be the abuse of our own environment. We are not helping things by polluting our Earth, so we still need to do what we can but we can not stop the “Inverted Spin” that is taking place, which is a much bigger cause.

This illustrates the magnetic fields that are around us, and points out that heat can de-magnetize a magnetic field.

To put in other words the core of the Earths is hot, and the “Globe Spin Model” demonstrates how magnetic field can be created and maintained at both polar areas, (North and the South Pole). The heat at the core of the Earth would de-magnetize the fields in the middle.

Permanent and temporary magnets

A permanent magnet retains its magnetism without an external magnetic field whereas a temporary magnet is only magnetic while within another magnetic field. Inducing magnetism in steel results in a permanent magnet but iron loses its magnetism when the inducing field is withdrawn. A temporary magnet such as iron is thus a good material for electromagnets. Magnets are made by stroking with another magnet, tapping while fixed in a magnetic field or placing inside a solenoid coil supplied with a direct current. A permanent magnet may be de-magnetised by subjecting it to heating or sharp blows or placing it inside a solenoid supplied with a reducing alternating current.

This illustration is simply meant to point out that bigger Planets, (Jupiter) or the Sun would have a larger magnetic repelling field.

This illustration also seeks to show that while the “Solar System’s Indirect Gravitational Pull” would naturally be drawing us into the Sun where we would burn up, these magnetic fields which are created and maintained by gravity are also over lapping each other and therefore are repelling each other all at the same time, or keeping us from burning up, a beautiful system.

These two systems are all working at same time, and they remain working because of how gravity is created and maintained as explained through the “Inverted Universal Globe Spin Theory”.

Our Solar System is rotating “Counterclockwise”.

Specific Topic: #49 original thought, Gravity, Magnetic Fields, Global Warming and Big Bang Theory

Exhibit: Section B - 33 – A

Date: 11/7/2007

This illustration adds to a previous illustration, (B – 31 – B). Up to that point it was thought that Gravity explains other systems like Magnetic Fields and Global Warming only. It was then realized that the whole idea of a “Big Bang Theory” no longer makes any logical sense. If gravity works as described in this document, though an “Inverted Universal Globe Spin Theory” then there is not a Big Bang or a Little Bang.

We are inside if you will an enclosed container. Yes a rather large enclosed container that we can not figure out how to see its ends, but an enclosed container all the same. This Universal Globe is spinning in the opposite direction the Earth is spinning and in order for that to take place it must be finite. Endless infinity can not spin.

So now:

Magnetic Fields are not only created and maintained by Gravities rotational activity but it would not even exist without Gravity.

Global Warming is inevitable with no relief valve, but without Gravity our planet would be very, very cold, and we would be unable to be lived upon the Earth at all.

The idea of a “Big Bang Theory” is no longer a viable theory. If gravity works as described in this document, through an “Inverted Universal Glob Spin Theory”, than a “Big Bang Theory” no longer makes sense, because it no longer in the realm of a possibility. You can not have a “Big Bang Creation Origin Theory” inside a finite container, a Universal Globe. A Universal Globe is an enclosed container. The objects inside the container can not be the cause or create the container in any way, it is not logical.

Just like the false notion that one would fall of the other side of the world if one took a ship too far out to Sea, so too is the notion that the Universe is forever endless. We have gone from one extreme to the other. Gravity found though an “Inverted Universal Globe Spin Theory” supports a finite Universal Globe, not an endless universe. There is no inverted spin possible in a “Forever Endless Universe”.

Who would have thought that Gravity Understood, Gravity Found, would teach us so much?

This illustrates part of a documentary, "Journey to Mars". In the documentary they were talking about how to create "Artificial Gravity" in space.

The piece on Artificial Gravity only took me back to the very first thought that came to my mind when I started thinking about gravity and how it works. I started my work prior to seeing this documentary, (please see Exhibit A – 1 – A).

An "Outward Directed Pulling Force" is created when spinning takes place. It is a type of gravity if you will because it exerts a pulling force though spinning. But Artificial Gravity is a pulling away force, where a Center of Gravity is a pulling towards the center force. A Center of Gravity requires an "Inverted Spin".

The spinning idea is a good start, and it was my first idea as well. Gravity requires a spinning motion. Gravity will never be found in matter "itself" as if it should be listed as Element on the Periodic Table.

It's just that you need to get the pulling force into the middle of the circle. You need to get the "ball in the middle" in order to create an inward directed center of gravity. The "Inverted Universal Globe Spin Theory" gets the "ball in the middle".

Specific Topic: #52 original thought. Black Holes – Rotate Clockwise – East into the West

Exhibit: Section B - 39 – B

Date: 11/7/2007

This illustration represents something I was not expecting to see, a formation inside the Universe that is rotating “Clockwise”. Here was a formation that was rotating in the same direction as that of the Universal Globe! It was rotating in the very opposite direction as that of our Earth.

Our planet Earth and our Solar System is rotating “Counterclockwise”, and each planet as well in our solar system is in possession of a “Inward Directed Pulling Force” towards its center, an “Inward Directed Center of Gravity”.

At first when I saw this I thought who ever put the illustration together made a mistake. They were not thinking, and they put the rotation direction going in the wrong way. Next I thought if the illustration is correct then what about the “Inverted Universal Globe Spin Theory”? But then upon further review it became clear that it was not mistakenly done, and not only did it not put a question mark around the “Inverted Universal Globe Spin Theory” but it actually ended up being the very evidence found in Outer Space that supported the “Inverted Universal Globe Spin Theory”!

What began to be very clear was that it was the “Opposite” of Earths Rotational Spin, so I want to then see “Opposite” things taking place to support the “Inverted Universal Globe Spin Theory”, and I found them!

Logic works.
